Finding a Substitute for High Priced Fats.

COLUMBIA, Mo., April 30.—"Fat is one of the most important constituents of our diet. The general sources of fats are meats, milk and its products, and vegetable oils. The most valuable single fat, as regards nutrition, seems to be butter fat. At the present time when the cost of living is constantly mounting, substitutes for this expensive fat should be considered," Dr. M. P. Ravenel of the department of preventive medicine of the University of Missouri declares.

"For many years oleomargarine has been on the market. There appears to have been a consistent campaign upon the part of some persons to discredit this product, and to limit its use. Oleomargarine is an animal product made out of the cleanest and best fats. It can only be produced under Government inspection and only sold when marked inspected and passed by the Bureau of Animal Industry. To some extent peanut and cotton seed oils are being put into oleomargarine.

"Oleomargarine is digestible, palatable and nutritious. Owing to the prohibitive tax on colored oleomargarine, it is sold uncolored. Persons can, however, buy the color and mix it in their own homes. This desire for colored material is an artificial one, many people thinking it means a richness. There is scarcely a pound of butter sold on the general market which is not colored. This is done to satisfy the demand for a yellow butter and to make cheap butters sell at a higher price. There is no excuse for selling oleomargarine as butter, but the tax on it when colored is most unjust in view of the fact that butter is universally colored and a higher price obtained for it than could be had if it were sold uncolored.

"Olive oil has for many years been considered the preferable one. It is at present being produced in California in large quantities and the quality is fully as good as that of the European product. However, the price is high. America produces a large quantity of peanuts and peanut oil. In addition, over a million gallons a year of peanut oil are imported. Both of these oils when purified form valuable food stuffs. Cotton seed oil has about the same food value as olive oil, and when refined can not be detected in salad dressings, for example, by the average person.

"Peanut oil is a bland sweet product fully as nourishing as olive oil and has everything to commend it. The use of both of these oils in cooking, for salad dressings, and other similar manner, is to be recommended in every way. There are on the market at the present time a number of preparations in which the cotton seed oil has been solidified.

These substitutes for lard are nutritious and wholesome, and are to be recommended. The prejudices which have been persistently raised against these fatty foods, especially oleomargarine, have no foundation from the standpoint of public health."

Missouri Plan Best for Wartime Production—Vrooman.

Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, has commended the organization plan adopted by the Missouri College of Agriculture for war crop production. Mr. Vrooman said recently, after he had visited a number of states, that the plan was the best that had come to his attention.

The Missouri College was the first institution in the country to outline a plan and put it into operation. Following the meeting which was held recently in each school district in the state, county and community organization will be affected. Where there are no farmers' clubs or organizations existing, organizations will be formed. These will carry out the production campaign in co-operation with the County Farm Bureau and the College of Agriculture.

Methodist Bishop Warns Divines Against Sunday.

From Atlantic City comes the following special dispatch to the New York World:

The imitation of Billy Sunday methods and the stampeding of his sort of evangelism by the young men of the church is threatening the very foundations of the Methodist Episcopal Church and all Protestantism, according to a warning delivered to the ministers and lay delegates by Bishop Joseph Berry, presiding over the eighty-first conference here today.

"Personally appointed evangelists who have an astonishing mania for grotesque religion" are making their pressure felt on every bishop of the church, according to the presiding bishop, who warned his hearers against the danger of supplanting pastoral evangelism with this "startling and spectacular system."

"The stampede has reached alarming proportions," said Bishop Berry, "These young men employ the method of Billy Sunday, imitating him and often using his words. The wide newspaper publicity, the shower of gifts, huge collection, the reputation of saving thousands of souls and the financial aspect are having their too-strong appeal. We are on the verge of surrendering our responsibility to the roaming evangelist. Are we ready for it? It is time for Methodists in the name of God to call a halt."

"Any system which supplants the church building with tent or tabernacle is a danger to the church, as is the leadership of grotesque, flamboyant, sensational, itinerant evangelists. The peril of the business is that the dependence we place on the evangelist may discount the work of our ministers."

Men Who Have Married Since War Won't Escape Obligation of Service.

Men of military age, who have married since a state of war against Germany was declared, will not escape their obligation of military service under a War Declaration policy, formally announced April 19.

The statement follows: "The War Department announces that all men married since the outbreak of war will be treated upon the same basis as unmarried men in so far as their military obligations are concerned. It is desired that the utmost publicity be given by the press to this announcement."

South America Interested in Ozarks.

Dean F. B. Mumford of the Missouri College of Agriculture has received a letter from R. H. McCrackin, Cerro de Pasco, South America, concerning farming lands in the Ozarks. Mr. McCrackin intends to return to the United States in September to farm. According to his letter a friend has directed his attention to the Ozarks as a great future cattle and hog country.

According to Dean Mumford the Ozarks country has a great future for certain types of farming adapted to the region. It should become a still greater livestock country.

Boy Aged Eleven Drowned Near Lodi.

(From the Greenville Sun.)
The 11-year-old son of the late Bowen Rainow, was drowned in St. Francis river near Lodi last Friday afternoon. The boy was a nephew of Bill Earl Chilton.

According to the best information we have been able to obtain the boy left his home, which is between Lodi and Brunot, without the knowledge of his mother and came to the river near Lodi just as Mrs. Simms and two of her children were preparing to cross in a boat, and asked Mrs. Simms to let him across the river. Mrs. Simms told the boy he had better not cross the river, but he insisted and stepped into the boat. As they approached the opposite bank the boat struck a limb, and the boy, who was standing up at the time fell over the side of the boat into the water and was drowned before he could be rescued.

A number of citizens of the neighborhood soon assembled and began a search for the body which was found a few hours later by John Midfield and Leslie Davis. Coroner E. E. Whiteside was notified but decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

Bowen Rainow, the father of the unfortunate boy, was accidentally killed only two or three months ago while at work in the mines at Flat River. It seems that the widowed mother's cup of sorrow is filled to overflowing, and she has the deepest sympathy of her neighbors and friends.

Family of Soldiers.

(From the Piedmont Banner.)
The Lindsey family is a family of soldiers, and has been for several generations, true to their country, and always first to the call of their country.

Col. James Lindsey, father of J. F. Lindsey and Robert Lindsey was a colonel in the Civil war. His son, Robert, was a captain and major in the Federal army of the same war at the age of nineteen years. Our late fellow townsman, Joseph F. Lindsey, now of St. Louis, enlisted in the 50th Missouri Volunteers, August, 1905, being only thirteen years and ten months old. He saw much hard service for about ten months, began discharged April 15, 1905, the day President Lincoln was assassinated.

In the present war which is now upon us, the only three sons of Joseph F. Lindsey are in the American army. Dr. J. L. and Dr. Roscoe Lindsey saw service in the West India Islands during the Spanish American war, when only seventeen and fifteen years old. Dr. J. L. has lately been commissioned Major in the regular U. S. Army. Dr. Roscoe is also a commissioned Regimental Dental Surgeon for the First Regiment of Missouri, and eaching as a first lieutenant in the U. S. Army. Levi Lindsey, the youngest son of Joseph F. Lindsey, is second musician in the First Missouri Regiment, and holds the rank of corporal in the band.

The last three Lindsey boys mentioned above are Piedmont boys living here for many years.

From Rev. O. S. Taylor.

Dear Old Register—I would like to say a few words through your columns to my many friends in Iron county. I find my new field of labor fine. It is a great field indeed. There are something over 3000 men and boys and girls that work in the Western Cartridge Plant of this place. Boys from 15 to 19 years old are paid from $2.00 to $2.50 per day; girls are paid from $1.50 to $1.75 per day. I think when you see men going up and the country without work, it is because they will not work at all.

Well, back to my friends. I love old Iron county for it was my home for many years. My boyhood days were spent in Ironton and around there, and as I was pastor of the Baptist Churches of Des Arc and Glover. I found many dear friends and my love for them will never die.

I like my work here, but it is not like old Missouri. May God bless the good people of Iron county and the REGISTER. REV. O. S. TAYLOR, East Alton, Ill., April 24, 1917.

Downward Course.

Fast Being Realized By Ironton People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing 'till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders may quickly follow; Dropsy and often Bright's disease. This frequently is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of an Ironton citizen. Mrs. M. J. Harris, Second St., Ironton, says: "My kidneys caused me much suffering and my back ached and pained. I could hardly do my work and felt all run down. My kidneys were irregular in action, too. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills that I got from the Arcadia Drug Co., and they strengthened my back, ridding me of all symptoms of kidney complaint. I was benefited in every way and in return I gladly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Harris had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

Mrs. Mary Gerstenmeyer.
(Farmington News.)

Mrs. Mary Gerstenmeyer, aged eighty five years, eight months and twenty five days, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Trauernicht, at Flat River about 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, of complications from infirmities of age. Notwithstanding her advanced age Mrs. Gerstenmeyer had enjoyed unusually good health up to the time her serious illness began a few days ago. The funeral was held Friday, the remains were taken to Pilot Knob, her old home, for burial. Services were held at the Lutheran church there by Rev. H. C. Harting, of Flat River. Mrs. Gerstenmeyer was born in Germany, but came to this country when a small girl and had lived at Middlebrook and Pilot Knob the greater part of her life. Prior to coming to Flat River to make her home with her daughter three years ago she had resided at Pilot Knob fifty-five years. She is survived by three daugh-

Huzzah Items.

The thermometer registered 92 degrees in the warmer part of the day.

Food prices have certainly advanced some since I wrote last. The next car of flour Mr. Sweeder gets will be about $7.00 per hundred, meal will be $2.00 per bushel and meat 32 cents per lb. Eggs are thirty cents now. The drummers would not give the merchants any price on sugar. It is 12 1/2 cents now and lard is twenty-five cents. Such prices would not be so bad if wages would increase, but they haven't increased any.

Feed is equally as high as food. Hauling has about ceased, for one can't hardly feed a team for what they make.

Everybody is busy plowing and planting corn. Gardens are looking nice. O. W. Ramsey, the Bismarck drummer, called on our merchants last week. He was enroute from Salem to Bismarck.

A number in this end of the county are attending court in Ironton this week.

It is reported that Mr. Ernest Copeland, of Bixby, and Miss Margie Medley of Doyle, were married, Saturday, April 21.

Rev. F. K. Hutchings filled his regular appointment at Goodland Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Arthur Barton, who has been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Jake Clements the past two months, was very sick last week. Dr. Stafford of Doyle was called to see him Wednesday. He is about all right now.

Mrs. Jake Clements and baby are on the sick list at present.

Wm. Hutchings' family, who have all had pneumonia fever, are getting better now.

Mrs. Lena Hanson visited friends at Doyle recently.

Mr. S. B. Dodson has gone to Strother this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cottrell of Howe's Mill visited the latter's parents and other relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. John Stuart has succeeded Wm. Bay as clerk in the Bixby store.

Miss Ida Day contemplates attending the teachers' training school at Ironton this summer.

Miss Blackwell, of near Salem, has secured the position as teacher of the Elm Spring school.

Mr. Wilbur Dodson will probably teach the Brushy school this year.

Mrs. E. T. Bay made a trip to Doyle Friday.

Henry Hutchings went to Howe's mill Thursday.
